The South Asia Institute of Heidelberg University (Germany) invites applications for a position ranked as a Full Professorship (W3) in „Political Science South Asia“

(Succession to Prof. Subrata K. Mitra)

to be filled by October 2015.

The candidate is expected to cover the complete spectrum of the discipline in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching. Applicants should have research and teaching experience with a clear focus on the region of South Asia. A research expertise in at least one of the following fields: comparative politics, international relations, or democracy and party system analysis, as well as knowledge of a South Asian language are advantageous. The candidate would be expected to participate in inter-departmental research projects and to collaborate with other departments at the South Asia Institute as well as with the Heidelberg Centre for Transcultural Studies.

A Ph.D. qualification, teaching experience, and a “Habilitation” or academic achievements comparable to the German “Habilitation” (in particular a successfully evaluated Junior-Professorship; see § 47, Section 2 LHG Bad-Württ.) are prerequisites for a successful application.

The University is intent on increasing the share of women in areas where they have been previously underrepresented. Applications from qualified women are strongly encouraged. Severely handicapped candidates having equivalent qualifications would be given preference.

Applications containing a curriculum vitae, proof of teaching experience, a list of publications, copies of academic certificates and teaching evaluations (if available) should be sent as a single PDF document by email to the Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences at: dekanat@wiso.uni-heidelberg.de.

The application deadline is 30.09.2014.

Informal inquiries regarding this position may be addressed to the Director of the South Asia Institute, Prof. Dr. Hans Harder, m91@ix.urz.uni-heidelberg.de.
