

September 23, 2017
Call for Applications

Visweswara Rao and Sita Koppaka Professorship
in Telugu Culture, Literature and History

Emory University
Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies

The Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies at Emory University in Atlanta, GA invites applications for the Visweswara Rao and Sita Koppaka Professorship in Telugu Culture, Literature and History. Rank is open. Applicants must have Ph.D. in hand by August, 2018. We seek an interdisciplinary scholar with expertise in Telugu culture, literature, and history, fluency in classical and modern Telugu and proficiency in another Indian language, preferably Sanskrit. The successful applicant will demonstrate an excellent record in scholarship, ability to teach undergraduates, and capacity to guide graduate students in Telugu traditions. The candidate will be expected to help build South Asian studies at Emory generally and to contribute to the core curriculum and programs of the department.

Interested candidates should submit a statement of interest, a c.v., two sample course syllabi, a writing sample, and a statement in which the candidate reflects upon his or her experience and vision regarding the teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds. Candidates should request three recommenders to submit letters on their behalf. All application materials should be submitted via Interfolio:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/45403>

We will start reviewing applications November 7, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Applications received up to 30 days after review begins will be given full consideration.

Emory University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Disability/Veteran Employer. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.