

The Andrew W. Mellon Society of Fellows in Critical Bibliography (SoFCB) at Rare Book School, University of Virginia, in collaboration with the University of Pennsylvania South Asia Center, Department of Religious Studies, and Department of South Asia Studies present:

From the Cover Inwards: A Conservator's Approach to Reading Bound Manuscripts

A Keynote Public Lecture by Yasmeen Khan, Head of the Paper Conservation Section in the Conservation Division of the Library of Congress

October 21, 5 PM-6:30 PM EST

This public event is organized by SoFCB Junior Fellows Megan Robb and Pranav Prakash. The keynote lecture concludes the "Book Cultures" Symposium at the Annual Conference on South Asia, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Register to attend online at book-cultures.com (or using the QR code to the right). No registration is required to attend the in-person viewing party, located at the University of Pennsylvania Van Pelt Library, Lippincott 242. Dinner for in-person attendees is immediately following the lecture. Email robbme@upenn.edu to reserve a place at dinner.

